SALEM PAIRED WITH NILES IN COURT OPENER

Play at 9 P. M. Wednesday In Sectional Meet At Youngstown

CAMPBELL FIVE IS NEXT ON LIST

Brookfield, Youngstown South, Other Teams In Salem Bracket

Pairings for the sectional Class A scholastic basketball tournament which opens at Youngstown East High school next Tuesday and continues nightly through Saturday were announced today following a meeting of coaches at Youngstown last night.

Seeded as one of the six best teams, Salem High school's Quakers, who started basketball observers with their tournament play last season, will meet Niles at 9 p. m. Wednesday in their first game of the annual event.

Play Campbell Next
If victorious over Niles, the Quakers will play Campbell Memorial at 9 p. m. Friday. The winner in this contest will advance to the finals of the tournament's lower bracket and in doing so earn the right to compete in the north-eastern Ohio district tournament at Akron.

Following the same plan as last year, the tournament was divided into three brackets with two seeded teams placed in each bracket in such a manner that they can not possibly meet until the final game.

The two finalists in each of the three brackets will advance to the district tournament, thereby making the Youngstown section represented by six teams at Akron. No sectional champion will be named.

The other seeded team in the lower bracket in which the Quakers are placed is Youngstown South.

Providing the Quakers get by Niles and Campbell Memorial and Youngstown South wins two games, Salem and South will meet in the final game of the lower bracket at 9 p. m. Saturday.

South Meets Brookfield
South will play Brookfield in its first game at 8 p. m. Wednesday and if victorious in this contest will face Hubbard at 8 p. m. Friday.

In addition to Salem and Youngstown South, other seeded teams are Youngstown East, Struthers, Scienceville and East Palestine. The latter entered the seeded ranks when Newton Falls refused to accept a position.

Nineteen teams, in all, will compete in the tournament. Ray Reas-

SALE OF SEALS SETS NEW MARK

Health League Secretary Reports $5,351 Collected During December Drive

The greatest sale of Christmas Seals since 1928, totaling $5,351.49, occurred in Columbiana county last December, it was reported today by Delmad R. Serafy, executive secretary of the Columbiana County Public Health League.

Total is much above the state and national average. B. L. Flick of Salem was chairman of the Perry township seal drive.

Twenty per cent of the gross sale, or $1,050.30, has been forwarded to Columbus where it goes to support the work of the Ohio Public Health Association and the National Tuberculosis Association.

The balance remaining, or $4,291.19, remains in Columbiana county where it will be used to carry on a fight against tuberculosis, Serafy said.

Approximately 50 per cent of Columbiana county's share has been set aside to finance clinics for "T. B." contacts and suspects who are unable to pay for such examinations.

The remainder will be spent, the secretary says, for supplies and literature, for an educational campaign, for case finding surveys, and for follow-up and preventive work.

A tuberculosis testing program has been completed in the East Liverpool High school, while a similar program is planned for Salem and Wellsville High schools.

Bible Stands Test, Evangelist Says

"The Bible has stood the fire test and it will stand the scissors test," declared Evangelist Wade Patrick, of Alliance, in his message at the revival service at the First Friends church Wednesday evening, when he exhorted the Bible as the inspired word of God.

Rev. Patrick explained that there was a time when men tried to destroy the Bible by burning it. Now its enemies are trying to cut it to pieces.

The sermon used for the nucleus of his sermon these words from Proverbs: "Because I have called, and ye refused; I have stretched out my hand, and no man regarded; I also will laugh at your calamity; I will mock when your fear cometh."

"When God's love is turned to wrath it will go as far as it now goes in mercy," the speaker said. "God makes it hard for people to go to hell. He will put everything across your path to stop you."

The services will be held each evening this week at 7:30, except Saturday.

BLAZE VICTIM SUCCUMBS HERE

Miss Margaret Burton, 16, Fails to Recover From Burns

Miss Margaret Arlene Burton, 16, a junior student at Goshen Township High school at Damascus, died in Salem City hospital at 11:05 p. m. Wednesday as the result of burns received yesterday morning at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Burton, of the Goshen rd.

Miss Burton was attempting to kindle a fire in a cook stove with kerosene when an explosion resulted. She was sprayed with the burning fluid.

Born at Damascus, March 24, 1921, she was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Burton. Her mother died when she was three years old.

Miss Burton had made her home with her grandparents, while her father resided in Jersey City, N. J.

She is survived, besides her father and Mr. and Mrs. Burton, by a sister, Lois Ann, who lives with her other grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Eyster, four miles north of Damascus.

Miss Burton was a member of the Bunker Hill Methodist church and Sunday school, and at Goshen Township High school she was active in home economics studies.

The funeral service will be held at 2:30 p. m. Saturday at the Arbaugh-Pearce funeral home here, in charge of Rev. H. J. Thompson, pastor of the First Methodist church.

Friends may call at the funeral home Friday evening.

Kerr Will Attend Educators' Rally

E. S. Kerr, superintendent of Salem public schools, will leave Saturday for Atlantic City to attend the annual convention of the National Association of School Administrators. The rally ends March 4.

The organization formerly was known as the department of superintendence of the National Education Association.

Sup. Kerr also attended last year's convention at New Orleans and the 1936 meeting in St. Louis.

NEW TAX PLAN AIDS BUSINESS, VINSON CLAIMS

Revision Bill Tentatively Approved By House Committee

DESIGNED TO EASE BURDEN OF TAXES

Would Modify Undistributed Profits, Capital Gains Levies

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—Representative Vinson (D., Ky.) said today the tax revision bill tentatively approved by the house ways and means committee would ease materially the tax burden on virtually all corporations and businesses.

"The bill will not keep firms from expanding and branching out and providing employment—if they really want to do it," he said in an interview.

"Our objective was to relieve hardships and inequities and to raise the same amount of revenue, and I think the bill will do that."

Would Modify Taxes
The legislation, drafted by a subcommittee which Vinson headed, would modify the undistributed profits and capital gains taxes and put a new surtax on family or closely-held corporations.

A minority member of the subcommittee, Representative Crowther (R., N. Y.), asserted there was "no great issue left in the bill."

"The undistributed profits tax has almost been destroyed," he explained. "We have taken the $25,000 corporations and said, 'you're out. We exempt you.'"

"Some of the small corporations would pay a little more normal tax, but they would have the privilege of complete discretion over use of earnings and dividends."

Most of the bigger companies, Crowther said, also would have that same discretion but would be charged a four per cent tax on their undistributed earnings.

"We are coaxing instead of compelling dividend distribution," summarized Crowther.

Vinson said the highest tax applicable to any corporation under existing law, he said, is 32 1/2 per cent. The highest rate proposed in the new bill for ordinary corporations is 20 per cent.

Highest Tax 14 1/2
The highest tax proposed for any corporation with earnings of $25,000 or less, Vinson said, is 14 1/2 per cent, while those with net incomes up to $5,000 would pay 12 1/2 per cent at the most. A provision for allowing deductions for property depreciation, he continued, allows "very material relief."

The 20 per cent surtax on closely held corporations would apply only to income remaining after a closely-held corporation had paid its normal taxes, deducted the amount of dividends, and then subtracted one of these three: $60,000, 30 per cent, or the amount used for debts, whichever was greatest.

Only firms with more than 50 per cent in value of outstanding stock owned by one individual or up to 75 per cent owned by 10 or less individuals would be classified as closely-held.

"In understanding this tax," Vinson went on, "it is first necessary to realize that it does not affect any corporation unless its net income is more than $75,000. It will not affect any corporation that distributes as much as 57 1/2 of its net income."

Warns Merchants to File Bills Promptly

City Auditor Karl Webster today issued a warning to local merchants to file their bills on relief food orders within three days after the purchases are made.

The city has to have the bills promptly now in order to comply with the new relief set-up in the county whereby the monthly relief fund distributions are based on the previous month's expenses.

AUTOS COLLIDE, WOMAN INJURED

Three Separate Traffic Accidents Are Reported to Police

Three traffic accidents in the city today and yesterday were reported to police.

Only one person was injured when four automobiles figured in a collision on S. Lincoln ave. at 8:25 a. m. today.

The pile-up occurred when a southbound car, driven by Nell May of 151 Sharp ave., collided with a machine driven north by Harvey Hendricks, R. D. 2, Salem.

A truck operated by Meredith Irons of Columbiana and an automobile driven by Thirl Eekstein of Franklin ave., crashed into the rear of the May machine when unable to stop due to icy pavement.

Mrs. Janice Evans, an employee of the county recorder's office at Lisbon, who was riding with Eekstein, received a cut over her right eye. Eekstein, an automobile registrar at the Lisbon courthouse, was unharmed.

Mrs. Burt Capel of 1390 N. Ellsworth ave., told police a small boy stepped in front of her automobile on N. Ellsworth ave. near Fifth st. at 11:50 a. m. Wednesday. She told police she stopped her car but apparently the car didn't hit the child for he ran away.

M. Scott Wilson of Leavittsburg informed police that an automobile bearing license plates L-333-Q struck his machine at the intersection of S. Lincoln ave. and E. Pershing st. at 8:20 p. m. yesterday, and then kept on going. No one was injured.

Venire Is Drawn For Rogers Hearing

LISBON, Feb. 24.—Seventy-five names, listed as prospective jurors for the Burl Rogers murder trial, were drawn at the courthouse this morning and March 21 was set as the date for the start of the trial.

Those named today will report at 8:30 a. m. March 21 when the jury will be selected.

The courtroom was crowded this morning while the venire was being drawn. The prisoner, Rogers, sat handcuffed in the room.

Oddly enough, the name of Mrs. Beattie Dushman, wife of Patrolman Harry Dushman of Wellsville, was among those picked. Patrolman Dushman arrested relatives of Rogers in Wellsville last week, the arrests eventually leading to Rogers' apprehension in East Liverpool.

Two others on the venire are D. D. Duty of Wellsville, father of Deputy Sheriff M. K. Duty, who took part in Rogers' capture, and Will J. Virden, turnkey at the county jail when Rogers made his escape in 1935.

State Is Scheduled To Present Its Evidence Saturday

(By Associated Press)
CLEVELAND, Feb. 24.—The perjury hearing of Lee Bradley was continued today until Saturday after a flareup over the position of Parker Fulton, Gov. Martin L. Davey's counsel, in the case, and an indication the defense would question the right of Judge Stanton Addams to hear the case.

Judge Addams granted the two-way continuance over objections of Bradley's attorneys, who sought a 10-day delay. The state will present its evidence Saturday, Judge Addams ruled, and after that the defense will have "a week or 10 days" to prepare to cross-examine witnesses and introduce testimony.

The hearing—called on a perjury warrant sworn to by Governor Davey after Bradley told the senate investigating committee that Davey had dealt with utilities and motor companies for contributions to his 1934 campaign—will determine whether Bradley is to be bound over to the grand jury.

Judge Addams said the governor would be called as a state witness "with the understanding the defendant will not be bound over to the grand jury if the governor fails to return for cross-examination."

Members of the senate committee, which had been subpoenaed to appear today, did not come to court.

By building smaller craft than Great Britain, Germany has not violated the Anglo-German naval pact of 1935, which limits Nazi submarine tonnage to 45 per cent of the British tonnage.

Destructive potentialities of the submarine armada can be gauged from the fact that in 1917, with 127 "U" boats in service, Germany sank 430 ships with a gross tonnage of 852,000 tons.

Great Britain, more dependent on sea communication than any other nation, views the increase in submarines of the world with considerable anxiety.

As a first step to augment anti-submarine strength of the British navy, the admiralty has salvaged 40,000 tons of old destroyers from the scrap heap, and is expediting construction of a fleet of ultra-modern destroyers.

	Total	In Service
United States	100	81
Great Britain	70	52
Japan	62	60
France	91	75
Italy	106	86
Germany	61	36
Soviet Russia	149	112

Although the chart would seem to show that Germany is the approximate equal of Great Britain, from the standpoint of tonnage, the Nazi navy is less than 50 per cent as strong in its undersea protection.

SENATE GROUP TURNS EYES ON HIGHWAY COSTS

Seidner Says Committee Doesn't Have to Appear In Court

COST ESTIMATES UNDER SCRUTINY

"Time for People of Ohio To Awaken", Asserts Committee

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, Feb. 24.—Ignoring the subpoenas of an East Cleveland court, the senate investigating committee turned to the state highway department today for an explanation of what its counsel termed excessive paving costs.

Chairman J. Ralph Seidner declared the committee would not and could not be compelled, under the law, to appear in east Cleveland municipal court for the trial of Lee Bradley on a perjury charge filed by Governor Davey.

The subpoenas demanded the appearance of the committee and its counsel, James Metzbaum, in court today. Counsel for Gov. Martin L. Davey said the writs would be withdrawn if the committee released to them a transcript of Bradley's testimony in Cleveland, which is the basis of the perjury charge.

Transcript Authorized
The committee did authorize the governor's attorneys, however, to obtain a transcript of Bradley's Columbus testimony, in which he asserted Davey appealed to utilities and automobile manufacturers for campaign contributions.

Bradley was taken to East Cleveland late yesterday and released under $1,000 bond. Municipal Judge Stanton Addams said he would grant a postponement of his arraignment.

The committee planned to call in Earl Murray, chief statistician for the highway department, after its counsel denounced paving cost estimates and asserted "it is high time the people of Ohio awakened."

Referring to one instance in which the department increased the cost estimate of an Adams county project from $24,953 to $69,652 and then saw a contractor agree to do the work for $39,700, Metzbaum said:

DIAGNOSIS

Equally as plain as Gov. Aiken's recent diagnosis of the Republican party's weaknesses is Col. Knox's speech at the Washington birthday banquet of the Polk county Republican organization at Des Moines. Mr. Knox campaigned aggressively in 1936 for the ticket on which he was vice presidential candidate. He has a right to speak. He says without quibbling that the Republican party failed in the last two national elections "to recapture the confidence and loyalty of the millions of farmers, industrial workers, small businessmen and small salaried employees whose votes for more than a half century made it dominant."

The party must reorganize itself, therefore, to become what it started out to be—"the party of the plain folks of America." Col. Knox sees eye to eye with Gov. Aiken. They are performing a vital service with their plain speaking, which seeks to rehabilitate the two party system by broadening the popular base of their party—a ringing testimonial of their faith in democracy at a time when authoritarian rule is distressingly in evidence.

WAIT A MINUTE NOW

Sen. Borah's simple explanation of Britain's overtures of friendship to Italy is too simple even for the naive minds of his countrymen.

He says their attitude toward a possible alliance with Britain caused that nation to do everything which has excited the world this week. The American public's skepticism about what the Roosevelt administration was doing with regard to an "understanding" was conveyed to the British public, it seems. The British public thereupon influenced its government and whiff! the whole thing was called off.

Prime Minister Chamberlain says Sen. Borah, decided that American public opinion wouldn't allow an understanding with his government, so he decided to make friends with Italy, instead. It sounds like a good trick, but few members of the American public believe it happened.

Frankly, they don't believe public opinion has much to do with foreign policy decisions. Officials who happen to be in charge of that work make the decision and hope they will be able to sell them to their diplomatically illiterate countrymen. Suspicion that their government was doing exactly that thing caused a few senators and most newspapers to suggest that nothing should be done in haste which would be repented at leisure. If that scared off the British government, its official nerves must be more frayed than even alarmists thought they were.

LEAN STREAK

The art of going along—of saying "Yes" when the head man doesn't want to hear "No"—has many close students in politics and the related field of diplomacy.

These students have been much in evidence recently. They went along when the Japanese army invaded Manchukuo. They are going along with Japan's invasion of China proper.

They went along when Italian troops made short work of Ethiopia's medieval defenders. They went along just the other day when German Nazis violated Austria's guaranteed independence from outside control.

But, human nature has in it a tough streak of perversity. Like the lean streak in a slice of bacon, that streak is tremendously important.

It is the thing men get their teeth into when, finally, after long abstinence, they must have nourishment for their spirit. It is the thing which from time to time has proved there is a vital difference between men and sheep.

There are always some men who can be driven so far and no further. Their capacity for going along is limited. When the limit is reached, they speak out a thunderous "NO" and the pages of history are thereby enlivened with what historians dearly love to call a turning point.

If at the moment it seems a few head men here and there over the world are able to get their own way merely by asking for it, if it seems that honest dissent is being rewarded only with purges, dismissal and a shower of rotten eggs and decayed vegetables, it is time to remember the lean streak in the bacon and the perverse streak in human nature. They're still there; the authoritarians, the "coldly practical" men, the strutting leaders can't change that.

THE STARS SAY:

For Friday, February 25

According to the very lively activities of major planets, this should be an eventful and memorable day, with romance and high adventure looming large. There are auguries of suddenly precipitated affairs in both business and private life, with writtings, speech, travel and change of a pleasant and far-reaching nature.

Those whose birthday it is may enjoy a year of sudden surprises, with decided change in the environments and interests. These may affect the private as well as business life, as much speech, writing, contracts and travel are possible.

A child born on this day may have much originality and ingenuity, with fine creative ability in writing, speaking, science and invention. It may be gay, witty and popular, with romance and adventure dominating its life. It may travel far from the land of its birth.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following "New York Day by Day" column, by Oscar Odd McIntyre, was prepared by the famous New York writer and distributed prior to his death.)

NEW YORK, Feb. 24—There are still a few candle-lit attic studios in Greenwich Village where the soul-hungry continue to starve for principles. Still a number of flaming zealots who have studied at Julien's and hope to get back to Boul Mich when economic skies clear.

These are the last of the modern rebels deploring commercialism and stoutly damning their fellows who succumbed to the easy go of newspaper comics or advertising illustrations. The last of the die-hards unwavering in their devotion to art for art's sake.

Particularly do the faithful resent the spread of nut night clubs and other foody saloons that have supplanted so many quiet waffle parlors and coffee shops. And made their world slightly honky-tonk. Now and then a rare and mellow patriarch will be found among them.

An oldster with white mustachios, goatee, corduroys and beret. He usually bears the sobriquet of Poppa and his venerable eyes glow when he comes upon some ambitious canvas that shows promise. Immediately he will beg the embryo painter to cleave to non-commercial ideals.

True story: A young man well known in New York business circles was recently given the gate from a job he held nine years, without explanation from his boss. Confused and hurt, he made the mistake of telling prospective employers that he was sacked because his boss was crazy, and was thus turned down on job after job for which he was ably qualified. On the verge of a nervous crack-up, he ran away from things and is still away, so his friends have not been able to tell him he was right. His boss did go crazy last week.

Nancy Hoyt, talented writer and sister of the equally talented poetess, Elinor Wylie, and something of a literary mad-cap, is greatly interested in bird cages although she has no interest in birds. She thinks they are somehow amusing. Not long ago she made a bird cage for a friend, a bride, and in place of the perch dangled a wedding ring through which she had drawn a well balanced sardine. Kinda hilariously goofy when you think about it!

Draft dodger: George Jean Nathan lives in perpetual terror of drafts. He will quit a theatre, restaurant or private dinner pronto at the slightest whiff of breeze. Also he works in an unventilated office and adds to the mugginess by puffing fierce black cigars.

Elbows on the dining table are absolutely o. k. according to most informed experts in upper bracket behaviourism. Although there's a psycho-physiological law that with elbows on the table hands have to get busy and do something they shouldn't. Both Emily Post and Margery Wilson closed the discussion with the dictum: "Elbows on the table are all right. It seems less stiff." A spy tells me that at a recent dinner Emily Post who had her elbows so adjusted most of the time was constantly tweaking an off ear and Margery Wilson, who peddles charm and poise, was alternately twirling a note book and feeling her face.

Last of the little cigar smokers seem to be Gelett Burgess and Roscoe Peacock, the sage of North Cohocot. At lunch the other day Burgess offered Peacock a slim cigarillo—the kind he keeps in a pocket in his socks. Peacock gazed in complete bewilderment. He knew of no one else who smoked thin ones. He sends to Tampa for his and Burgess gets his right around the corner. Solemnly they shook hands. The beginning of one of Webster's beautiful friendships!

Thingumbobs: Amos 'n Andy's dumb stenographer is Madeline Lee, great-grand-daughter of Robert E. Lee and an expert character actress. . . . Lew Lehr, the movie short comic, convulsed the Dutch Treat Club and got the biggest ovation ever accorded a guest of honor. . . . Murdock Pemberton has not worn a white shirt for ten years—the gaudier the better is his credo.

HEALTH

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland

Recently I referred to bronchitis as a common affliction which is too often overlooked or neglected. I mentioned, too, that sometimes the symptoms are actually caused by tuberculosis. Since then I have received many requests for information about bronchitis, and some of the writers have indicated fear that they are victims of tuberculosis.

Careful reading of the article will show that I said distinctly of chronic bronchitis that it is not necessarily a symptom of tuberculosis. But I did point out that one must never assume the chronic cough is actually due to uncomplicated bronchitis, unless it has been so determined by a physician.

Each of us at some time or other has suffered from a stubborn cough. It results from an irritation of the upper air passages. This, in turn, may have been produced by exposure to dust, smoke or other irritating substances. But the most common cause of cough is an infection by the germs of the common cold.

May Be Fever

The infection may travel downward and result in inflammation of the bronchial tubes. It is to this condition the physician refers when he says you have bronchitis. The sufferer complains of pain in the chest and has a troublesome, hacking cough. In an acute case fever may be present or absent. There is a general feeling of discomfort. The patient should stay in bed until the cough and pain have subsided. It is particularly important to remain in bed if fever is present. Activities should not be resumed until the temperature has remained normal for at least 24 hours.

Sometimes it is comforting to rub the chest with warm olive oil, warm lard or camphor oil. The chest should be covered with flannel or cotton. A mustard plaster may be helpful. If the cough is dry, hacking and prostrating a cup of hot tea should be used.

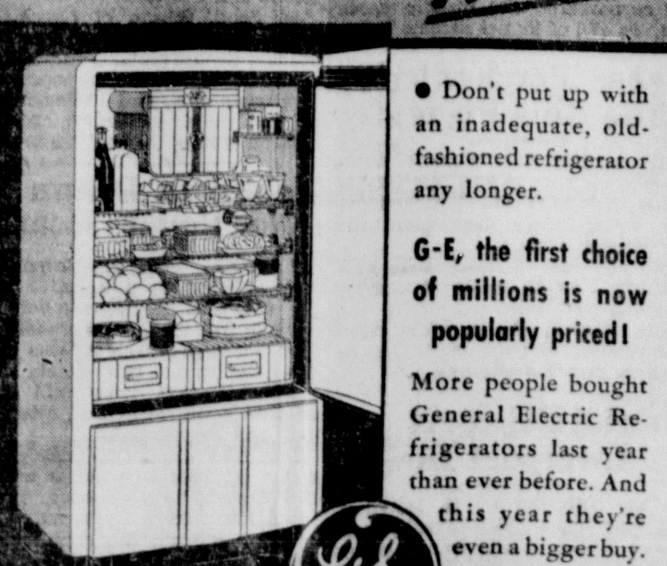

Fortunately, acute bronchitis, if properly cared for, is of short duration, soon responding to treatment. Chronic bronchitis is apt to run on in spite of all medication. This form, a common disorder of persons of middle age, is often neglected. Cure is difficult after the condition has existed for a long time. It is a constant drain on the system and should be overcome as soon as possible.

Answers to Health Queries
W. W. T. Q.—I am troubled with a ringing or whistling in my ears. I have been told that this condition can be overcome by living inland away from the salt water. Is there any truth in this?

A.—This may be due to a number of causes. For full particulars, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question. If there is any underlying catarrhal condition, the climate would be a factor.

Dr. Copeland is glad to answer inquiries from readers who send an addressed, stamped envelope with their questions. Address all letters to Dr. Copeland, New York City.

Penn-Ohio Drivers
Hail Safety Record

Outstanding records of highway safety established in 1937 will be celebrated Thursday evening by the bus operators of Penn-Ohio Coach Lines company when they assemble in Youngstown for their annual safety banquet.

The dinner will be given in honor of the drivers who completed either the first or the second half of the year without an accident charged against their records. Ninety-two per cent of the men, that is, 91 out of 96, made such records. Of these 45, or 77 per cent, of the men in the service throughout 1937, completed the year with accident-free records.

In achieving this record the Penn-Ohio operators drove their busses 3,144,577 miles over the 702 miles of route comprising the interurban bus system in northeastern Ohio, western Pennsylvania and northern West Virginia and carried a total of 2,693,981 passengers.

Chandler to Oppose Barkley For Senate

FRANKFORT, Ky., Feb. 24.—Gov. A. B. Chandler returned to the capital today cast in a new but not unexpected role — a candidate against Alben W. Barkley for the latter's senatorial toga in the August Democratic primary.

Making his formal announcement at a chamber of commerce dinner in Newport, Ky., last night, the governor said he would oppose President Roosevelt's senate floor leader as "President Roosevelt's friend."

He hinted broadly, however, he would attack Mr. Roosevelt if the latter took steps to aid Senator Barkley's bid for re-election.

Held In Shooting

LEGION HOLDS BIRTHDAY FETE

Columbiana Post observes Anniversary; Other Units Attend

COLUMBIANA, Feb. 24.—The annual Washington's Birthday banquet sponsored by Benjamin Firestone post, American Legion, Tuesday evening in the Legion hall was attended by nearly 100, including members of the Rotary and Kiwanis clubs, whose regular meetings this week were not held.

Attorney Homer Carlisle, Youngstown, gave the address. Telling of the program of the American Legion, Atty. Carlisle, who is a past county commander of Mahoning county council, touched on world affairs and the duties of good citizenship. He was accompanied to the meeting by Wallace Wharton, Chief de Gare of the Mahoning county venture of the 40 and 8, and also adjutant of Post 15; Harry Dewey, commander of Post 15; and Clarence Horton, present Mahoning county commander.

Guests Welcomed

George Furney, commander of Benjamin Firestone post, presided and welcomed those present, including Mark Klingsmith, president of the Chamber of Commerce; Wm. B. Miller, president of the Kiwanis club; and Secretary Isaiah Mowen, representing the Rotary club.

Music during the dinner was furnished by an eight-piece orchestra composed of American Legion band members directed by Charles Esenwein. Ray J. Miller led group singing and other program numbers were two accordion solos by Mrs. Ed Leisher and a musical reading by Muriel Miller, accompanied by Ellen Esterly.

The dinner was served by members of the Ladies' auxiliary, who had tastefully decorated the tables in national colors.

The King's Daughters class of Grace Reformed Sunday school will meet Friday evening in the church social room, when the evening will be devoted to sewing for the Salem city hospital. Hostesses will be Mrs. Myron Brubaker, Mrs. R. I. Mollenkopf, Mrs. Arthur Myers and Mrs. W. B. Treadwell. A good attendance is desired.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ferguson are the parents of twin daughters, born Monday afternoon at their home, South Main st. The new arrivals have been named Pauline Anne and Patricia Anne.

Present Recital

Piano and organ pupils of Mrs. R. J. Barrow presented a recital at the Presbyterian church last night. Those who had part on the program were Barbara Robinson, Anna Mary Shontz, Blossom Riddle, Leila McCarty, Joan Spott, Martha Mae and Don Patchen, Marjorie Lehman, Edith Garrod, Frances Mae Hollabaugh, Donna June Wetter, Jimmy Trader, Peggy Klein, Viola Order, Alice and Leona Ehrhart, Janice Order, Helen Gleeton, Helen Hicks, Charles Mollenkopf, Helen Schooley, Greta Lou Hawkins and Ellen and Miriam Esterly. R. J. Barrow presented two groups of vocal solos.

Another recital will be held at the same place Thursday evening when the rest of the pupils will be presented in piano and organ recital. A special feature of the program will be a vocal trio from Youngstown with Mrs. Frank B. Home as accompanist. The public is cordially invited and there is no admission.

There will be no choir practice at the Presbyterian church Thursday evening due to the recital to be held there.

Mrs. Roy D. Pavey of Columbus came Tuesday to spend a few days at the home of her sister, Mrs. R. J. Esterly.

THEATER Attractions

"Gold Is Where You Find It," an outdoor action drama dealing with the colorful war between the California farmers and hydraulic miners of the 1870's, is the State's feature tonight, Friday and Saturday.

It is done in the newest technique, and co-stars George Brent and Olivia de Havilland. It includes, too, sterling players as Claude Rains, Margaret Lindsay, John Littel, Barton MacLane, Marcia Ralston, Tim Holt and Sidney Toler.

Taken From Novel

"Gold Is Where You Find It" is based on the best-selling novel of the same title by Clements Ripley, which ran as a serial in the Cosmopolitan magazine. It was made almost entirely in the outdoors, on the actual locale of the bitter conflict which it portrays—in remote Trinity county, California.

The cause of that ancient warfare was this: The hydraulic miners, whose powerful streams of water tore away the hillsides, claimed that they had a right to search for gold in any way they chose. But the muck caused by their work (a combination of mud and sand and stone, called "slickens") poured over the fertile fields and crops.

Court Intervenes

Conflict resulted. Battles were fought, many were killed. Finally, a federal court decision declared in favor of the agriculturists and the hydraulic miners had to quit their operations.

At the Grand Friday and Saturday is "Wild Horse Rodeo," a western story featuring the "Three Mesquiteers."

"Wild Horse Rodeo" stars, along with Max Terhune, Ray Corrigan and Bob Livingston, the three of them comprising a western trio which has rapidly become one of the most popular western trios on the screen. In the current picture they portray rodeo champions who use their skill to keep a beautiful wild horse from the hands of the villains who would exploit it.

June Martel is the lovely leading lady and the supporting cast includes such western favorites as Walter Miller, Edmund Cobb, William Gould and Jack Ingram.

List Nine Traffic
Deaths In 24 Hours

(By Associated Press)

Ohio recounted today a toll of nine traffic deaths within the past 24 hours.

Two were killed in the crash of a furniture truck and light sedan near Youngstown on the Youngstown-Akron road. They were Mrs. Sophia Harvilla, 51, and Jackie Patton, nine months, passengers in the auto. The truck turned over but its crew's injuries were slight.

Carrollton's first auto death in the town's history was that of Doyle Heidy, 23, of nearby Delroy, whose auto hit a truck on a hill.

At Newton Falls, near Warren, another auto-truck crash killed the four-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bricker.

Pedestrians struck and killed by autos were William Gardner, 70, of Cleveland; Morris Lessure, 50, of Cincinnati; and Earl Huff of Co-shooton.

At Toledo, a train struck and killed Herbert Barnard, 25, as he walked home along the tracks. Shifting railroad cars crushed Otha Leavitt, 57, brakeman, at Mingo Junction.

QUAKERS COMPLETE CAGE SCHEDULE FRIDAY

Brown Bomber Returns To Championship Form To Defeat Challenger For Title

SALEM CAGERS FACE ANOTHER STATE LEADER

Quakers Meet Struthers In Closing Game of Regular Season

Another crack at a leading Ohio scholastic basketball team will be offered Coach Herb Brown's Salem High school Quakers tomorrow night when they face Struthers' Big Red quintet in their final game of the regular season at Struthers.

The contest is scheduled to start at 8:30 following a preliminary game between Salem and Struthers reserves. The preliminary will get under way at 7:15.

Currently rated as one of the six best teams in the state, Struthers has won 19 of 21 games to date. Alliance and Sciencetown are the only teams boasting victories over Coach Bruce Hamm's Big Red quintet.

Although weakened somewhat by the loss of big George Istvan through mid-year graduation, Struthers is still strong enough to be classed as the Quakers' most dangerous opponent since Massillon.

The Big Red variety is built around three veterans from last year—Anderson, Repasky and McDonald. The other members of the first five—Godward and Saunders—were second stringers last season.

The three Struthers veterans played against the Quakers last season when Salem chalked up a 36 to 25 victory.

Disatisfied with recent performances of his team, Coach Brown feels that the Quakers must snap out of their slump if they hope to get by Struthers, especially in view of the fact that the game will be played on Struthers' court.

The Red and Black lads have obviously slipped off their early season pace in the past few games, but the cause for the decline has not been located.

Both the Quakers' offense and defense have suffered from the slump with poor rebounding, faulty ball-handling and a general lack of power and smoothness showing up in recent games.

One of the most plausible explanations of the decline places the blame on the team's coasting after piling up a lead. This reason is supported by the fact that the Quakers' offensive average per game is only one point better than their opponents'.

This explanation would show that the Quakers are a "three-quarter" ball club with a tendency to let down in the fourth and most important quarter.

The Quakers have scored 413 points in winning 10 out of 14 games, averaging 29.83 points a game. Their opponents have scored 361 points for an average of 25.84.

The offensive average for the Red and Black cagers for three-quarters of a game is 23 points, while their opponents' three-quarter average is 18.21.

In only one of the 11 games in which the Quakers have entered the fourth quarter with a lead have they outscored their opponent.

While the coasting theory seems to hold plenty of water, this reason does not fully explain the Quakers' slump. Other reasons offered to explain the decline in performance are: (1) The team, as a whole, lacks the spirit and confidence to win; (2) dissension among players; and (3) failure of the offense to keep continually moving in, rather than employing excessive mid-court ball-handling.

The Quakers' foul shooting has also fallen off in the past few games and reached a new low last week against Wellsville when the Red and Black lads made only two of 14 free shots. For the season, the Quakers have converted 104 of 202 charity tosses.

DIZZY PLEASED WITH CONTRACT

"Mighty Happy Business Is Settled," Claims Cardinal Ace

BRADENTON, Fla., Feb. 24.—Dizzy Dean looked over his signed contract to pitch for the St. Louis Cardinals today and made it known he was "happy about the whole thing."

"I am mighty happy that this business is settled and that I will be able to start work when camp opens March 2," Dizzy said upon his return from Winter Haven, where he met Branch Rickey, Card vice president, and agreed to terms reported to call for a $17,500 pay check.

"I feel great. My arm's okay. And with a full course of spring training I am confident I will be able to pitch in my old form."

"How many games will I win?" he continued. "Well, say 16 or 20, but if everything goes right I'm liable to win even more."

No figures were announced when the contract conference broke up yesterday, but the general impression was Dizzy had signed for about $17,500—about $8,000 less than last season.

Spartans Defeat Youngstown Five

A field goal by Griffith in the last 10 seconds of play gave the Salem Spartans a 26 to 25 victory over the Youngstown Renaissance club at the Spartans' home last night.

The Spartans held a commanding lead throughout the first half of the contest, but fell behind only in the second half after holding only a one-point edge at the end of the third quarter.

SCORING RACE ONE-MAN SHOW IN OHIO LOOP

Nick Frascella Credited With 249 Points In Conference

Also, unless there is an unforeseen upheaval in the form charts, "Parson Paul" Weaver, Capital's great sophomore forward, will carry on next year right where Frascella leaves off.

The Wooster sharpshooter has scored 249 points in 10 conference games for an average of 24.9 while Weaver has racked up 248 in 13 league tilts for an average of 19 and second place in the standings.

Weaver's stunt is considerably below Frascella's efforts but it betters the more compact Buckeye conference's best average of 14.1, held by Julius Rivlin of Marshall with 115 points in eight loop games.

Another Marshall player, Charles (Chub) Watson, is in second place with 90 points and an average of 11.2—which is all the Thundering Herd needs as it already has gotten so far ahead in the Buckeye race that the other loop teams are intent only on the contest for second place.

Frascella has piled up 329 points in all games played this year—an average of 22.8—and is the first Wooster player ever to "break" 300 in one season. He also is the first to score more than 900 in three years, having registered 295 last year and 296 in his sophomore year.

Weaver's total of 222 points in all games is just four points short of the all-time Capital record of 226, set by Gene Mechling of Glenford, O., in 1931, and he looks like a cinch to better both that record and the three-year Capital total of 610, also held by Mechling.

DAYTON LOSES TO LUTHERANS

Ashland Tops Kenyon In Conference Tilt; Hiram Is Winner

(By Associated Press)

Ashland college scored its third Ohio conference cage victory of the season last night by beating Kenyon 39 to 35.

On the sad end of a 27-20 half-time count, Ashland's basketballers returned to hold the invaders scoreless for eight minutes and tie the score, then broke through the Gambier defense to snare the laurels.

The victors have dropped 10 to 13 engagements.

Wittenberg, Ohio circuit leader, trounced the University of Dayton, 39 to 36, in a rough non-conference tilt. The victory was the 18th in 24 starts for the Lutherans, and their 14th in a row.

A 36-all tie prevailed with one minute of play to go when Shannon connected for a goal and Werner for a free throw to clinch the game. Dayton held a 23-20 half-time advantage.

Hiram avenged an earlier defeat by crowding out Kent State university, 48 to 41, Claude Crafts, Hiram guard, looped 17 markers.

Long Island university handed Marshall of Huntington, W. Va., its third loss in 27 games. The score was 38 to 33. After a 15-all half-time deadlock, the eastern contingent drew away.

Toledo DeSales let down the curtain on its cage season with a 53 to 43 win over St. Mary's college of Orchard Lake, Mich., in a Michigan-Ontario conference set-to.

Columbiana Plays Beaver, Pa., Quint

COLUMBIANA, Feb. 24.—Coach Jimmy Wiand's Columbiana High school cagers will play a post-season game here Friday night, meeting Beaver, Pa. basketballers at the local floor.

This game was booked recently to fill the gap between the time the regular season closed and the start of the district Class B tournament at McDonald.

Coach Wiand's lads have posted 12 wins in 17 games to date. Richard (Sonny) Fisher, who has scored 228 points in the 17 contests, will be playing his last game on the local court against Beaver as will two other members of the varsity quintet—Eckert and Poulton.

The two other regulars—Dewalt and J. Burkle—are sophomores.

COUNTY CLASS B TOURNAMENT CARDED

Three Teams to Play In Cage Tournament At New Waterford

NEW WATERFORD, Feb. 24.—Bidding for a place in the north-eastern Ohio district tournament at McDonald, basketball teams from New Waterford, Fairfield and Salineville high schools will compete in the annual Columbiana county Class B elimination tournament here Friday and Saturday nights.

The winner of the tournament will advance to the district event along with Columbiana's crack team, which has been exempted from play in the county eliminations.

In past years Columbiana has competed in the tournament with the other Class B schools of the county, but a precedent was set this year which allows Coach Jimmy Wiand's team to play in the McDonald tourney without going through the elimination event.

Columbiana won the county tournament for a great many years and seldom did any other Class B school receive a chance to play in the district tourney.

New Waterford and Fairfield will meet in the first game of the tourney Friday night, while the winner of this contest will clash with Salineville for the tournament championship Saturday night.

Reserve teams from the three schools will also stage a tournament. The winner in this tourney will be awarded a trophy.

New Waterford is host to the county tournament for the first time this year. It was previously held at the High school gymnasium in Salem.

Salem Quakers Win Over Alliance Five

Rallying in the second half after trailing by two points at intermission, the Salem Quakers of the High school intramural league defeated the First M. E. Aztecs of Alliance, 25 to 20, at Alliance.

Mike Oana paced the Quakers to victory, scoring 11 points on five field goals and one free throw.

Fear Two Men Died In Greenfield Fire

GREENFIELD, Feb. 24.—Marshal W. S. Nevil expressed fear today that two men perished in an early morning fire which destroyed Greenfield's principal business building with a loss estimated at $125,000. A fireman was cut badly. Nevil said that Carl Huff, about 50, and Lee Rickman, about 40, a Negro, were last seen in the basement of the Hurd building and that they slept there frequently. The fire broke out at 2 a. m. Fireman Richard Cook of Greenfield was injured in a 10-foot fall.
Charles A. Uhl, an insurance agent, estimated the loss. He said there was $75,000 insurance.
The three-story building was occupied by a restaurant, drug store, shoe store, grocery, several office suites and the Eagles' lodge hall.
Firemen from Hillsboro and Washington Court House were summoned to aid in fighting the blaze.
Nevil said firemen would have to dig through eight feet of debris to ascertain whether Huff and Rickman had been trapped in the basement.

Ship-Ins Curtail Ohio Potato Prices

The price of Ohio-grown potatoes is the lowest since 1928, despite the fact that the yield in 1937 was the poorest in a number of seasons. It was disclosed at the meeting of Columbiana and Mahoning county potato growers in the Methodist church basement here.
The reason, J. C. Hedge, of Canfield, Mahoning county farm agent, contends, is due to the shipment into Ohio of potatoes grown in other states.
The situation was caused by the over-production last year in the states which ship into Ohio. The over-productive states were listed as Maine, New York and Michigan.
However, despite curtailed production last year, Lloyd Gardner of the Ohio Bureau of Markets said potatoes grown in the district averaged higher in the top ranking grades than any other district in Ohio.

GRAFT HUNTERS IGNORE COURT

Senate Investigators Turn Attention To Highway Costs

Waterloo, an engineer in the bureau of location and design, Metzbaum interrupted: "I object to that answer, Mr. Chairman. These estimates are made up by influences far beyond the reach of these men. The buildings adjoining the state office building are the seat of government in this state, sir."
"It is the greatest razzle-dazzle ever worked on a free people since Columbus is reputed to have come to America," Metzbaum said that bids on a Stark county highway widening project estimated at $47,615 were cancelled, "apparently because the price was not enough to satisfy the contractors," and that resurfacing was added to the plans and the original estimate increased to $79,032.
Only the General Asphalt Paving Company of Canton bid the second time, the counsel said, and it got the contract at a figure identical to the estimate.
General Asphalt was a member of the Hot Mixed Bituminous Paving Industry of Ohio, Inc., whose members have received a large portion of the state's highway construction business.

Cites Clinton Project
Metzbaum told also of a project in Clinton county estimated to cost $57,382. He said bids on it were cancelled in June, 19-7, and the project was reoffered about three weeks later on an estimate of $80,836. He added that he found nothing to warrant the increase in price.

There was another project in Stark county, Metzbaum said, estimated at $64,087. Bids on it were cancelled. Plans were changed, another material was specified and the project was split into two offers with estimates totaling $116,727. He said he was informed that the substitute material and methods produced no better job than the original plans contemplated.

He cited still another example to show, he said, that when contractors outside the "hot mix" association bid on projects, "the boys in the hot mix lodge" had to cut their bids sharply to get the contracts.
This was a Ross county project, offered at $35,105 in July, 1937, and cancelled. On the second bidding the cost estimate was increased to $54,428, for which Metzbaum said he could find no reason; 11 firms submitted low bids, and the contract was let for $38,390.

COLUMBUS, Feb. 24.—Al Humphrey, state liquor enforcement chief, today announced appointment of Charles E. Watkins of Ravenna as superintendent of the new Steubenville enforcement district, which embraces Jefferson, Carroll, Columbiana, Harrison, Belmont and Monroe counties.
Watkins, now an inspector in the Youngstown district, will take the $216-a-month job March 1.

PUSH PLAN FOR WPA BUILDING

Committee on Fairmount School Proposal Is Appointed

LISBON, Feb. 24.—Common Pleas Judge W. F. Lones Wednesday afternoon appointed four Columbiana county men to serve with a committee from Stark county as members of the building commission of the Fairmount school.
The appointees are C. V. Beatty of East Liverpool, J. Y. Skidmore, East Palestine; F. H. Grove, Columbiana, and F. L. Stewart, Salem. All members will serve without pay and will meet at a date in the near future to approve building plans.

The $125,000 building proposal was defeated last November at the polls, with Stark and Columbiana county both voting on the issue. Commissioners of both counties decided to submit the proposal to the government as a PWA project recently.

The plan calls for the erection of a modern 12-room school building and the conversion of the present school building into a dormitory to house children for whom there are no accommodations at present at the home.

Escaped Youth Held As Warren Attacker

WARREN, Feb. 24.—A 22-year-old fugitive from the Massillon State Hospital for the Insane was held in city jail today as the youth who slugged a 12-year-old girl, dragged her to a brickyard and criminally attacked her Saturday night.

The youth was said by police to have admitted ownership of a handkerchief found at the entrance to St. Mary's cemetery, where the girl was stopped as she walked along the sidewalk.

Police planned to put him in a line-up for possible identification by the girl and by a truck driver who told police a youth of that description mistreated two small boys in the same vicinity a few days ago.
